

The University of La Verne's Educational Leadership Program invites applications for adjunct instructor positions. We believe that diversity supports effective educational environments, and we therefore encourage applicants with diverse experiences and backgrounds. We seek colleagues with educational leadership experience in advancing issues of diversity, access, and social justice in education and society. The LaFetra College of Education recognizes the need to develop school leaders who can apply research-based approaches to teaching while maintaining the social consciousness to address inequities in current educational structures.

Qualifications:

1. An earned doctorate or master's degree in Education Leadership/ Administration or closely related field;
2. Minimum of three (3) years of preK-12 school leadership experience, preferably in roles of increasing responsibility;
3. A valid California Administrative Services Credential;
4. Experience working with and advocating for diverse and underrepresented student populations;
5. Current knowledge of administrator preparation, including the California Professional Standards for Educational Leaders (CPSELs), California Administrator Performance Expectations (CAPEs), and the California Administrator Performance Assessment (CalAPA).

Responsibilities:

Teach graduate-level educational counseling courses at the main campus in La Verne and online. Engage in annual meetings and participate in other program related trainings and activities throughout the academic year.

Application:

To learn about specific openings and request an application packet, please contact Jaymi Abusham, Program Chair, at jabusham@laverne.edu. Your completed application will include:

1. Adjunct faculty application.
2. Letter of Introduction, including teaching philosophy and expertise to teach specific courses.
3. Current resume/CV.
4. Transcripts from highest degree earned (unofficial transcripts are accepted in the application packet, but official transcripts will be required of individuals who are hired).
5. Proof of valid California Administrative Services Credential.

For further information, please contact Dr. Jaymi Abusham at jabusham@laverne.edu.